what we do

experts in advice

...giving free, confidential, impartial, independent advice and practical help to people in Cambridgeshire

...taking part in national CAB campaigns to effect change

In 2005/06, the Cambridge CAB dealt with thousands of enquiries. These are the problems that Cambridge people told us they faced:

Our Client Satisfaction Survey said: 100% found our advisers informative and 96% were satisfied with our service

In Cambridge we currently have 142 volunteers and 33 staff working 6 days a week, in Cambridge and at various outreaches. We offer advice to all those who need it, irrespective of age, sex, disability, ethnic origin, belief or status.

why we need your support

we are a charity

People often think we are funded by central government. This is not true. Cambridge CAB is an independent local charity which relies on the support given by individuals, business, local government, and others. We are highly dependent on donations.

how can you help?

Professionally trained volunteers carry out most of our work. We constantly need new volunteers from all backgrounds to train as advisors or to help in one of many other ways.

But what we need more than anything else at present is your financial support. This money is needed to train advisors (which takes up to one year), for premises, IT equipment, our contribution towards the CAB's unrivalled electronic information and client recording systems, and support costs.

To maintain and improve our service we need your help.

what should you do next?

If you would like to discuss working as a volunteer or ways to give us financial support, please contact us at our Cambridge office. If you have decided how much and how to donate, please fill in our donation form. Both can be found overleaf.
